KITCHEN UTENSILS

They are small, inexpensive, heavy-duty, and no kitchen can do without them. Mills, peelers, graters, colanders, cutting tools, moulds of all sizes, stainless and plastic bowls, moulding boards, pads, slicers, cutters, measuring cups, mixing, and measuring bowls – you may find all that in the assortment of BANQUET kitchen utensils. The abundant offer is complemented with additional kitchen tools, i.e. ladles, spoons, whisks, turners, forks, and many other kitchenware items. A wide selection of different materials according to your choice is a matter of course. The assortment includes wooden, plastic, stainless, nylon and highly popular silicon products. Whatever product you select, you may be certain of its premium quality, long durability, and excellent price.

Cutting & Chopping

Do you need a knife for everyday use? Do you need a heavy-duty knife that is fit for any challenge? In that case, you ought to choose from our selection of classic BANQUET kitchen steel-edge knives. Massive kitchen knives from the Savoy line, for example, are distinguished by their edge made of top quality hardened steel with hardness ranging from 54 to 56 HRC. Their elegant handle made of two polished pakkawood plates is practical and easy to use thanks to its ergonomic shape.

Ceramic knives have become an indispensable kitchen utensil in any modern kitchen. Their main advantage is the extreme hardness of the ceramic edge and ultimate resistance to various stains and corrosion. The ceramic edge does not allow the penetration of any acids commonly present in foodstuffs. Compared to traditional steel knives, the ceramic edge prevents any chemical reactions with foodstuffs. Ceramic knives are neutral in terms of taste and chemical substances. Their ceramic edge also prevents the depletion of vitamins contained in fruit and vegetables. Ceramic knives are easy to clean and they represent a modern and mainly healthy method of cutting and chopping foodstuffs. The assortment also includes ceramic knives with white or black edges.

A compromise between both types of kitchen knives mentioned above is the anti-adhesive kitchen knife. It has a steel edge covered with an anti-adhesive layer. The wide selection of models, which are available in all standard sizes, their modern design and the range of colours will undoubtedly satisfy everyone. In addition, the individual collections feature peelers with the same design. The kitchenware assortment also offers a comprehensive set of chopping and cutting boards made of traditional and exotic wood, e.g. bamboo or gum-tree, as well as plastic, melamine and glass with numerous attractive decorations.

COOKING BAKING

The foundation stone of any kitchen and household is high quality kitchenware for everyday use, whether it involves frying, baking, stewing, grilling, or other food preparation methods. BANQUET products form an indispensable part of this essential cookware for housewives, professional, as well as amateur cooks. The wide assortment of cookware includes ranges made of both modern and traditional materials that come in many combinations, sizes, and shapes.

Pots & Pans

Pots and pans represent a group of products that play a leading role in every kitchen. BANQUET brings you a comprehensive collection of pots and pans that are available in sets or separately. They are made of cutting-edge materials and their design respects the latest trends. Stainless steel belongs among popular materials used for pots and it may be found in many BANQUET collections, e.g. Matte Line, Akcent, Cassida, etc. Hand in hand with different lid design and handles made of various additional materials, these state-of-the-art pot materials contribute to creating elegant cookware sets, which are quite practical, easy to maintain and which may be used with most modern cooker boards. Other highly demanded pot materials include, for example, enamel steel or cast aluminium with an anti-adhesive surface. BANQUET pot sets feature traditional, as well as pressure pots, which are made of premium quality materials, durable, safe and easy to maintain.

One can hardly imagine cooking without top quality pans. BANQUET pans satisfy all the requirements of customers on this product type. Despite their low weight, they are quite solid. And thanks to their first-rate cast aluminium body, they conduct heat quickly and effectively and they endure high temperatures. Ergonomic handles were designed to provide maximum comfort and easy handling. No matter what pan you choose, whether with a ceramic, titan or multi layer anti-adhesive surface, you will always find an abundant selection of colours, shapes, and sizes among the BANQUET pan collections.

Baking Pans & Baking Moulds

Baking pans and moulds belong to essential kitchen utensils in households, as well as in the more demanding environments of restaurants, canteens, bakeries, etc. In this product category, BANQUET offers a large assortment of professional quality cookware, such as, for example, stainless baking pans, carbon steel baking pans and trays, baking moulds made of both traditional and modern materials. A fundamental role undoubtedly pertains to baking moulds, which are made of ceramics, carbon steel with an anti-adhesive surface, or silicon. The evermore-popular silicon moulds are easy to maintain and store, they do not absorb any flavours or smells, and they endure temperatures of up to 250°C. Their anti-adhesive properties do not weaken with frequent use. Anti-adhesive baking moulds and pans may be complemented with a practical plastic lid allowing direct storage. We should not forget to mention baking pans and moulds made of cooking glass, which also belongs among traditional materials in the world of gastronomy. Under the BANQUET brand, you will find baking pans with transparent cooking glass lids in many shapes and sizes.

FOOD JARS CONTAINERS

Nowadays, it generally is not a problem for us to buy fresh groceries every day. However, we hardly ever buy groceries intended for immediate consumption, whether it is fruit, vegetables, salami, cheese, meat, bread and pastries or dry foodstuffs, such as flour, sugar, salt, legumes, etc. In such a case, a pantry, a storage room, or a refrigerator certainly comes in handy. Nevertheless, in addition to the question of WHERE to put your groceries you also need to tackle the question of HOW to store them. As a rule, heat, light, and humidity are detrimental to all foodstuffs. Some types of fruit and vegetables should be stored separately and the same applies to foodstuffs with intense aromas. Likewise, not all foodstuffs can be stored in the same manner and in the same place.

BANQUET brings you a large variety of storage jars and containers for different types of foodstuffs, which will help you store your groceries properly. Traditional glass jars continue to be very popular. They are available in many sizes and designs, with metal, wooden or glass lids. Glass jars are particularly suitable for storing loose foodstuffs, such as sugar, flour, breadcrumbs, as well as pasta, nuts, dried fruits, legumes or sweets and cookies. Smaller glass jars are ideal for storing spices and herbs. They are sold by piece or in practical sets with a shelf. The wide offer of glass storage jars also includes hermetically sealable containers, which allow you to store, for example, intensely aromatic foodstuffs, and decorated metal containers for storing coffee, tea or sugar.

BANQUET also offers practical plastic containers with lids for storing ready-to-eat meals, fruit, vegetables, salami, cheese, and other foodstuffs in the refrigerator. You may select from a wide choice of sizes and shapes depending on the type of use. Containers from the Freezy collection are especially suitable for deep-freezing and long-term storage of food.

Short-Term Food Storage and Travel

Thermo pots with lids are ideal for storing and carrying hot and cold food. The outer casing is made of durable plastic, while the inside is stainless and easy to wash. Thermo pots are available in several standard sizes. Plastic 1 and 1.4 litre thermos food containers present another modern method of storing and carrying food. Their glass thermo-insulating separator ensures that the stored food maintains a constant temperature for a very long time. Plastic thermal containers are sold in sets with a deep plastic bowl and a plate. Stainless 3 or 4-compartment food carriers will serve you well when carrying meals from a canteen.

The best solution for carrying beverages is the well-known thermos bottle. BANQUET offers you a wide range of thermos bottles. The basic models are available in 0.5 / 0.75 / 1 litre volumes. On your travels, you will certainly appreciate practical thermos bottle and travel cup sets. We also bring you thermo cups with trendy designs, which may be used separately or with the thermos bottle. If you are planning an excursion, an outing, or a trip to your weekend house, BANQUET will always provide you with everything you need.

OTHER PRODUCTS

Like many other products, kitchen design is also influenced by fashion trends. More and more customers prefer kitchens with simple and clear lines instead of the diminishing rustic-style kitchens. Practically every year, we experience changing customer preferences in relation to colour tones, handle types, etc. However, no matter what design our customers select, they generally demand their kitchen to have a practical layout with sufficient storage space, where electrical appliances, as well as other kitchen utensils and equipment are „always at hand“. Surprisingly, it is the smallest of kitchen utensils that help organize your kitchen and make food preparation much easier. BANQUET offers the Variella wire organizer and shelf programme, which comprises a suspended kitchen system, classic and corner shelves, suspended railings with hooks for hanging various kitchen utensils. The LINEA range offers practical and elegant products, including hanging or table fruit baskets of various shapes, hot pot mats, kitchen utensil stands and racks, tissue or wine racks. All products are chrome-plated and since they meet even the most demanding appearance and design requirements of our customers, they fit into any type of kitchen.

Bar Collection

Now and then, almost everyone throws a smaller or bigger party at home to celebrate birthdays, promotions at work, housewarmings or just to have a good time with friends. Such social events cannot do without the BANQUET bar collection. The collection includes handy openers, pourers, and bottle caps, as well as a champagne bottle cap, a vacuum pump with 2 caps, and a set of marker rings for stem glasses. The colourful ice cube mould will surely be useful not only on a hot summer day.
